If You Are Wanting Free And Cheap Relevant Website Traffic, Then This Article Is For You!

If you have a website then one of your biggest concerns is how to get traffic - Do you pay through the nose for Adwords or other expensive pay per click programs. What about paying those guys who reckon that they list your site on 300,000 + search engines? (In my opinion due to the Captha boxes on most, this just can't be done.

But there are ways you can get cheap and free traffic as well as website content to attract those hungry spiders. One free method that I have been using of late is the Free Traffic System

Free traffic allows you to place your articles on a large number of web sites, and they even have an article spinner which is also free. When I write an article, I write it with spinning in mind, so I try to use terms that are interchangeable. A quick example would be - This Blog post is really worthwhile.

This is going to ensure that you will have 5 separate titles that are rotated as they are automatically posted on other blogs - You can also spin the content as well. What is also very cool with free traffic system is that you can add your blogs to their network, ensuring a lot of free unique content.

I use this daily - I go to my blog and see what is new content - If it is worthy - and most of the time it is - I head to the post that I like and hit my Onlywire button which auto send the page to a number of social sites - Digg, Delicious, Google pages etc - As a Blog owner this is really a very easy way to promote posts and gain traffic - on some of these free posts I have had 200 + visitors.

My goal here is to ensure that the structure of each blog is as good as possible so that Adwords ads and affiliate links and CPA ads get clicked - Guess what this works and all it does is cost me a few minutes for each Blog. - You can see the Free Traffic System here.

My second method is Neurolinker - Neurolinker costs $29 a month and allows you to add 100 websites into their network, giving you a ton of backlinks - some of my sites have 250+ links from this system - and if you have Blogs, then you as a member you get free access to their Blog linking service which allows you to add 100 blogs to their network - You can also use their article marketing service which is going to go out to hundreds of blogs and allows you 5 links per article - again they have a built in article spinner which works just like the above example - Again, you can have a look at Neurolinker here.

So when I write an article - I submit it to Ezine articles, then into the Neurolink Network using their spinner - then over to Free traffic system to do the same - This gives me a ton of backlinks over the next week as they are added to new blogs joining the network - As these sites mature, so do my links ensuring better ranking and targeted traffic.
