It's Scary Procrastination And Results Fear Of Success

Is the Fear of Success preventing you from taking action?

Because one small action could earn you $100, $200, $1000 - and that could be just the tip of the iceberg.

We all know that "Procrastination is the Thief of Time"

So why procrastinate?

Well, partly because of the actual nature of Procrastination which Wikipedia describes as "a type of behaviour which is characterised by deferment of actions or tasks to a later time."

And what causes procrastination? Mainly because it "might have a great impact on our lives"

If you've been putting things off, you can still spare 5 or 10 minutes to check something out, surely?

5 or 10 minutes could be all you need to find the right opportunity that helps you earn yourself $100, $200 or much, much more!

You have to admit that's not a lot of action for quite a lot of reward, especially since the reward may be ongoing, and god forbid may even increase.

But is it the 'great impact' that the extra money could provide you that is what you are afraid of in the first place?

Here's a quick, emotion based quiz:

1. Do you like the idea of greater financial freedom and rewards?
2. Have you ever stepped up and done enough to achieve them?

OK - I think we both know the answers to those questions...

Usually fear of success is the problem.

If procrastination has become such a habit that you do it without thinking, then you simply won't remember how it stopped you taking the steps to achieve so many things, so many times in the past.

What you will conform to is just keep doing the same things over and over again, and you will never fully understand why you're in the same old rut.

Procrastination is looking for the most difficult way of doing something, and deliberately (without thinking about it) placing obstacles in your own way.

Every single growth task becomes a mountain to climb.

Instead of doing what needs to be done you justify doing things that will have no impact on your financial freedom goal.

You might play games on your computer, watch TV, make a cup of tea or coffee, tidy up your desk or just simply day dream about what you are going to spend the money on.

In reality you should working on the task at hand rather than doing the things that won't help your situation

If you are a creature of Procrastination you will tend towards overcomplicating things for yourself and everyone around you...

But, can you beat it?

Yes, and its simple!

Start by not complicating the things that will get you where you want to go.

Forget the excuses you've been giving yourself all this time... that's obviously one thing you are good at.

And forget "What if?"

There's also a significant difference between taking immediate action and being rash or foolhardy.

Let's assume you're not stupid. You KNOW what to do - and that includes how it's likely to turn out. I guarantee that 90% of any tasks you plan (properly) and undertake will move you forward.

In other words, you know what you should do very quickly, you just need to trust yourself and act with confidence.

Make that a habit and you'll soon start getting used to the 'great impact'.

What's interesting in the internet marketing industry is that the majority of affiliates put off taking action until it is almost too late.

Notice I said almost?

They procrastinate, and eventually get around to it and once they started, things started happening.

What would have happened if they got into it straight away, well - it's pretty obvious isn't it? They would have brought forward their results. Why, because the opportunity or one just like it was there all along.

There exist today opportunities aplenty in online marketing, they come and they go - and anyone with the right mindset and who takes action on it will always have the jump on the benefits.

Don't let Procrastination sabotage your success. Otherwise you might end up living a life that just plain sucks!

It's time to make the most of your opportunity - the sooner you start the more bucks you could make!
