What Wealthy Affiliate Say About Adsense And Article Marketing

You've heard about the AdSense frenzy and made up your mind that you are going to get your portion of AdSense cash cow. You've either made-up a website or bought one, and today you're ready to rock! You submit it to every search engine and directory that you can think of, dreaming of 1000s of surfers coming in from every engine on the planet. All begging to click your AdSense links and make you rich.br /

br /

And so you sit back and wait. And wait. And wait some more. Checking your stats day-after-day desiring to see the rush of traffic swarming in. However somehow it just doesn't come.br /

br /

The days of the above business idea working are long over. It might have worked in 1999, but in 2009 you're going to have to do a lot more to promote your new internet site. There are still free traffic sources out there, but they desire something in return to link to your new site. Content.br /

br /

This is where article marketing comes in. The concept is easy. You compose an article that's related to your sites subject, inserting a link or two within the article or the articles footer, linking back to your site. Then you submit it to article directories. They in turn release your article, giving you a RELEVANT link back to your site and possibly directing you some of their traffic.br /

br /

Many of the article directories out there have numerous good traffic to share. They also can actually help your Google Page Rank when it comes time for Google to rank your site. Google wants to see INBOUND links to your site from other sites with similar content. So the links these article directories can give you are crucial to the weight of your site in the long-term.br /

br /

But the article directories are just the first stop for your article. Just about all of the article directories encourage other webmasters to republish your content on their own sites with corresponding subjects. So one article can actually turn into virtually 1000s of inbound links over the months ahead. This snowball effect is precisely what were anticipating with each article we compose.br /

br /

Article marketing is only as powerful as your dedication to it though. To genuinely construct your site's traffic and page rank you are going to need thousands, if not ten's of thousands of inbound links. One or two articles is not going to do this for you. It's going to acquire a day-to-day dedication on your part. As the owner of two different article directories, I can tell you that there are a lot of article marketers out there submitting as many as 10 articles a day in an attempt to promote their sites. They evidently see the value of article marketing and they don't intend to do the task midway.br /

br /

"But Chuck! I can't write an article!" I hear this all the time from my customers. Honestly, it's an easy way out. What you're really telling me is that you don't wish to write articles. You don't have to be an ex journalism major to compose a brief article to promote your site. Heck, you don't even have to be a high school graduate. All you need to do is to be able to read and write. If you can't read and write then you plausibly don't need to be the owner of a website.br /

br /

It's really uncomplicated. Sit down and write on the subject of your site. Hopefully when you built or purchased your site you picked a topic that you're at the least fascinated in. It doesn't have to be a subject that you're acquainted with, simply something that interests you. If you're sites subject is something you know zero about, do some research! Write an article sharing what you discovered with other readers. You can begin as merely as "I didn't know this, and you may not either...."br /

br /

If you're suffering from serious writer's block, try using a mp3 recorder. Dictate things youd like to tell about your site or your site's topic and then transcribe what you recorded afterwards. You can take the recording and amend it in writing and come up with a good article.br /

br /

The bottom line is this. Whenever you would like to promote your brand-new site without spending 1000s of bucks, you must incorporate article writing into your promotion plan. Without it, your road to success is going to be a great deal of a bump.br /
